'These Days'

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY NIXON IN RUSSIA

It would seem that the most that can be hoped for at this moment is a postponement of the Berlin and the German questions for 18 months or better still for two years. This implies an optimism that something will occur to relieve the strain between West and East.

For the United States it might be some slight elief to our economy which is now showing the effects of a decade of pressure upon our gold reserves and the value of the dollar. For Soviet Russia, it could mean a period of consolidation of enormous gains. For West Germany, it could mean a respite from Soviet Russia's demand for a recognition of two Germanys. For Great Britain, it could mean a wider trade with Russia.

The real difficulty is that this prospect does not give to Khrushchev what he requires most urgently, namely, a clear-cut and decisive victory over the West such as Stalin gained over Roosevelt and Churchill at Yalta. Khrushchev's prestige is high, but it is based on political maneuvers not upon national achievement. Stalin took a very weak state into the Yalta Conference and came away not with a bone but with the whole hog. He got a better agreement at Yalta than he had had with Hitler by the Molotov-Ribbentrop Pact and $11,000,000,000 of American money to boot, none of which has been repaid. Khrushchev has to live up to that achievement and while, at the 20th Congress, he attempted to down-grade Stalin, and whereas he got rid of Stalin's close associates, Kaganovitch, Molotov Malenkov and Zhukov, that down-grading did not prove too effective. He could not pull down all of Stalin's statues or his record. He needs to better the record of the Old Dictator

To do that, he really needs to defeat the United States or to form an association with the Unitafternoon, let us say, the population of this ed States or to form an association with the United States that will be favorable to Soviet Russia. To defeat the United States by military means learn that intelligences from outer space does not seem to be leasible at the present time.

ALL HOMES HAVE HEAT?

For a very simple reason—Oil Heating usually costs a little more to install-some builders consider a few dollars higher original cost more important than years of savings and comfort for the buyers of their homes.

However, the vast majority of home builders in Ulster County are conscientious—they try to put into the homes they build the best quality and value for the price and although it does cost them a few dollars more—they still install oil heat. They know from experience, oil provides better, safer, more dependable heat for less money which in the long run, makes satisfied home owners.

When a builder installs Oil Heat you can expect the entire house to reflect his integrity and attention to the basic features that give a home extra lasting value.

"All stockholders present and accounted for"

That's right, not a stockholder in the house, because Savings Banks are mutual banks. They have no stockholders to share in the banks' earnings.

What does this mean to you, the depositor? It means all earnings come back to you after provision is made for expenses and reserves to protect your savings. Because Savings Banks are mutual banks, only depositors share in the earnings.

And, those dollars you have on deposit are working for you. They are active dollarscontinually invested in projects vital to the growth of your community and state. Savings Banks finance the lion's share of New York home mortgages. Those new expressways, bridges, schools, religious buildingsthey and many other needed developments are financed by Savings Banks. Results? More jobs, more business, greater prosperity for you and your neighbors.

Doesn't it make sense to deposit your extra dollars in a mutual Savings Bank, where New Yorkers share in the growth of New York?

How can you tell a Savings Bank from other banks?

A. By the fact that it specializes in savings, with all its efforts devoted to the growth of your money. There are no stockholders only you, the depositor, share in its earnings.

Crowds Bring Dust

MOSCOW (AP) - The harried director of the U.S. exhibition in Moscow made ready today to lay a coating of asphalt over 30,000 square feet of concrete floor being ground to powder by thousands of Russian boots.

Harold C. McClellan, general director of the exhibit, said it might be a good idea if some U.S. firm agreed to ship in crew and material to install a durable flooring. The dust storm is blamed on the poor quality of the concrete floor the Soviets laid. The floor beneath the great gold dome became a dust bowl after an estimated 70,000 visitors trudged past the exhibits Sunday. Since then cleaning crews have been trying with only partial success to keep down the dust.

"The trouble with the Yankees," said the cynical Giant rooter "is too many one-game winning streaks."

But hope springs eternal every early morning for the passionate Yankee diehards of the editorial room-Eddie Palladino, the assist- tionals and Americans adant sports ed. and Albert Cawein, who is Casey Stengel's personal representative in the Saugerties area.

Palladino is running the risk of shattering a well-earned reputation as a sports prognosticator (didn't he pick Ingie by a kayo?) by clinging to the illusion that the Yankees can still salvage the 1959 gonfalon. Cawein, who joins Eddie in commiseration day after day, is merely acting out the part of a solid Yankee rooter. No fair weather rooter, this guy.

But with Bill Skowron out for the season, Mickey Mantle unable to generate a steady pace and the Big Three of Ford, Larsen and Turley hardly overpowering, how are the Yankees going to do it. With mirrors? The White Sox are winning too many one-run ball games to be written off as just an accident. ball games to be written off as just an accident.

• Flotsam and Jetsam:

Joe Gordon, the Cleveland skipper and one of the all-time Yankee immortals at second base, thinks Billy Martin is vastly overrated. But Gordon's downgrading of Billy The Kid, who was a umph over Pine Bush and Ron-World Series hero for the Bronx Bombers is not universally shared. Wouldn't Casey like to have him these trying days? . . . Don't know what you think about the upcoming second All-Star game, but to this observer it reeks with commercialism. Granted that it's the first chance for the West Coast fans to see the conglomeration of major league stars, the contest nevertheless relegates itself to way. Kingston Nationals and trophy and certificates that will be awarded winsecond-run status. How many people could get excited about a second Kentucky Derby, Davis Cup finals, Collegiate All Star football or Army-Navy football game? The contest appears to have inspired monumental boredom in the East.

way. Kingston Nationals and Rondout Valley will meet at 6 p.m. tonight at the Kingston Jaycee diamond and Kingston Americans and Town of Ulster will clash at the Armony fold.

• Bob Feller Sounds Off:

George Palmateer, the Poughkeepsie New Yorker sports editor, had a lively telephone interview with Bullet Bob Feller, the former Cleveland Indian pitching immortal. Feller took a verbal swipe at the second All-Star game, labelling the contest "a money making project, pure and simple," and called it a "ridiculous race."

Robin Roberts of the Philadelphia Phillies, is the National League

Fisher walked only one batter representative and chief drum-beater for the game, but Feller and struck out 11. Loser Gordon wasn't hesitatnt in taking him over the coals. Bullet Bob also has Bell was touched for six hits in a low opinion of the present New York Yankees. He said the players "should be ashamed to wear the uniform. This isn't a Yankee ball club." Why the collapse? "The club's farm system has broken scored the runs for the winners. down and the Yankees can't always trade with the Kansas City A's. He picks his old Indian club to win the pennant "going away," because of the club's good young pitchers. He figures the White Sox to give the Indians a run all the way, "but the White Sox haven't any power to go with good pitching." Getting back to the second All-Star game, Feller had this parting shot: "Baseball ought to be distance for the Kingston side."

• The Woodstock Influence:

Woodstock Country Club women have made the Freeman Holein-One pretty much a private affair the last five years. And, curiously enough, two other women who won the tournament while representing other clubs are now members of the village club—Jessie Burnett and Mrs. Elmer Rylance. Starting with 1954, the Woodstock winners of the hole-in-one competition have been: Mrs. Harry Byrnes, Mrs. A. J. (Wiggie) de Lisio, Mrs. Louise Fitzsimmons, Mrs. Alex Sharpe, Jr. and Mrs. Frank Barger. The latter has since moved to Detroit, while Mrs. Byrnes is no longer active in golf. Mrs. Burnett won the original tournament (1949) as a representative of Wiltwyck, while Mrs. Rylance scored her historic representative of Wiltwyck, while Mrs. Rylance scored her historic representative of Wiltwyck, while Mrs. Rylance scored her historic representative of Wiltwyck, while Mrs. Rylance scored her historic representative of Wiltwyck, while Mrs. Rylance scored her historic representative of Wiltwyck, while Mrs. Rylance scored her historic representative of Wiltwyck, while Mrs. Rylance scored her historic representative of Wiltwyck, while Mrs. Rylance scored her historic representative of Wiltwyck, while Mrs. Rylance scored her historic representative of Wiltwyck. curiously enough, two other women who won the tournament while toric repeat in 1951-52, also playing out of Wiltwyck.

• Fishing by Any Name:

There are probably more names for fishing techniques than there are fish. Most anglers have heard of casting and trolling, but some of the names are more or less local, points out the Pennsylvania Fish Commission. What is known as dapping for crappie and bass in some areas becomes jigging in another. In the west, the same technique of using a long pole and a short line goes under the title of tule dipping. A winter steelhead fisherman goes plunking, an exacting science of lobbing salmon eggs into the current, planting a bell-equipped rod in a holder and hustling back to a bonfire. We don't understand it either.

Discovered by Neighbor

Mrs. A. R. Mott Jr., told a reporter that she had been in and out of the house several times before noon and saw no sign of fire. She said later that her nephew 10-year-old Ward Breithaupt was playing in the yard with neighbors children when he saw smoke billowing from the upper part of the packing house. "Ward came running into the Mrs. Mott said. "I ran outside just as my husband came back from the orchard where he had "Board members who objected been spraying. My husband no-
